Planning Agenda For Tuesday

Five requests for rezoning and the application of Alcan Pacific for a use permit to allow construction of the Del Mesa Carmel project on the recently rezoned land in the lower Valley will be heard by the County Planning Commission next Tuesday. Tonight, Wednesday, November 18, the board of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association will preview these requests at an open meeting at 8:00 at the CV Community Center.

Many Meetings Slated Tonight

This is the evening (Wednesday, November 18) when public spirited Carmel Valley citizens may wish they were triplets, and on occasion one could even use a fourth head.

The CV Chamber of Commerce will meet at Reuben's at 8:00 p.m. to hear the results of their Board of Directors' election, conducted this year for the first time by mail. Dinner and a regular business meeting will follow.

Federation of all property owners groups in the Valley will be discussed by the Mid-Valley Property Owners Association at Carmelo School at 8:00 p.m. A committee consisting of James Sanders and Cdr. Lee Jewell, appointed last month by association president Ariel Lane, will report on a proposal they have worked out in consultation with

Antique Planes Converge on Carmel Valley Airport for Fly-in

Forty seven planes flew into CV Airport Sunday for the first fly-in sponsored by the local chapter of the Experimental Aircraft Association, and attracted a crowd of spectators estimated at about 4,000. Pres. Al Norman of the sponsoring local chapter of the Experimental Aircraft Association declared that the plus-business generated for local business establishments by the major event emphasizes the importance of the local airport. Four area service men gave exhibition parachute jumps; Lt. Gene Rutland of Fort Ord was blown off target, landed in a tree, and broke his ankle jumping from the tree. The women's auxiliary of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Dept. did a land office business serving food from a truck loaned by Mel Mark; Dick Searle supplied the public address system. Planes, which competed in flour bombing and spot landing, included 13 antique, one home-built and 33 modern from throughout Northern California.

Supervisor Hudson Launches Series Of Lunch-Conferences

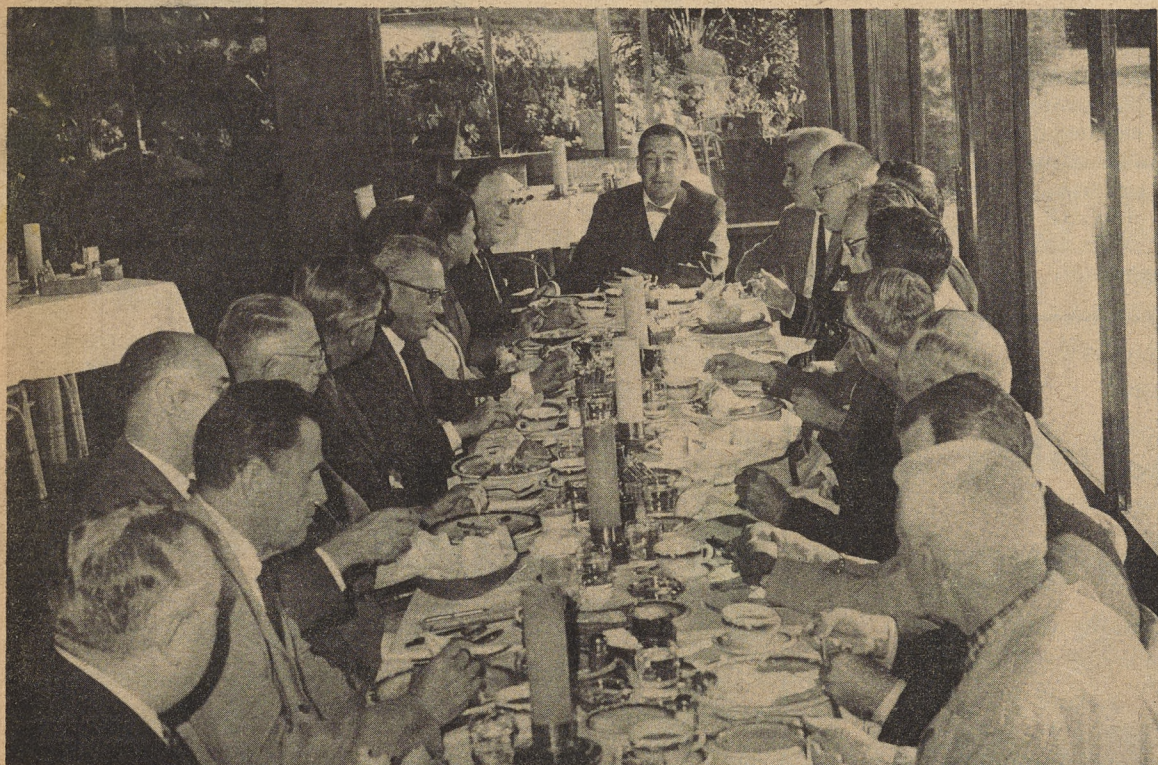

Leaders of Valley organizations and several County officials assembled somewhat hastily for a no-host luncheon at Rancho Del Monte Country Club last Monday in response to surprise telephone invitations from the office of Supervisor Thomson J. Hudson earlier that same morning.

This would be the first of a continuing series of such meetings, the Supervisor told the group, which he hopes will "improve communication" by informal discussion of Valley problems. As a starter, Hudson touched briefly upon such local concerns as the future of Carmel Valley Road, the relationship of retirement communities to the Valley as a whole, the flood problem, the sewage problem, location of utilities such as

P.G.&E., achievement of a slope-density formula, and a cultural center in the lower Valley on the 15 acres of the Del Mesa Carmel project which Alcan Pacific has agreed to dedicate to the County.

Present were Keith Evans, chairman of the County Planning Commission and vice-chairman Dr. Edward P. Marcucci; CVPOA President Geroge Brown; Lou Gardner, represent-

Hudson's Huddle

"We can't possibly think of a name for another group," observed Marie Frumkin, who represented the Mid-Valley Property Owners Association at the assemblage which Supervisor Tom Hudson called together last Monday. "We have used up all the names there could possibly be," Mrs. Frumkin explained, evoking appreciative chuckles from Valley leaders and County officials in attendance.

At the risk of evoking an unappreciative rumble from our volatile Supervisor, we couldn't resist dubbing the monthly gatherings he will sponsor with the title above — as informal as he plans these meetings should be.

Re-reading our own front page news record of who-said what at the first one, we are struck by several things: the variety of interests represented, the range of local problems which call for solution, and the forthrightness of expression on the part of the Supervisor as well as some of those whom he unofficially summoned.

Most of all we are struck by Supervisor Hudson's evident concern regarding criticism he has received recently from his Carmel Valley constituents. Repeatedly he referred to this criticism and defended his own motives and decisions. His desire to rebuild confidence in his leadership was apparent.

Thoughtful citizens like nothing better than assurance that elected officials respond to and work on behalf of their expressed interests. That skepticism vies with such assurance at this time was obvious in what Valley leaders had to say — and also in several eloquent periods of silence.

Yet those who care about Carmel Valley are eager that differences be mended so that work on community problems may proceed. We doubt if a single person at Monday's meeting is unwilling to meet our representative at least halfway in constructive effort.

If Mr. Hudson's offer to meet with Valley leaders monthly helps achieve the kind of community the majority of our residents desire, he will indeed have earned renewed confidence. And Carmel Valley would be just as pleased with these results as Supervisor Tom Hudson!

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This spring the Carmel Valley Outlook carried a news item which I believe was an exclusive, that Mr. Dudley Swim had made certain offers to the Monterey Peninsula Planning Committee to donate money or loan money for the purpose of acquiring land to be used by the public.

Since that time nothing has been written concerning Mr. Swim's offer.

I believe that it would be a constructive reporting if your paper would publish a follow-up story on this subject. Such a story should include, but not necessarily be restricted to the following points:

Was Mr. Swim's offer answered by the Committee other than a normal acknowledgement?

Was Mr. Swim's offer rejected or accepted?

If rejected by whom was such a reject made and what were the reasons therefor?

If Mr. Swim's offer was accepted what steps have been taken to implement his offer?

Has this matter even been made an item of agenda for public hearing by the Monterey Peninsula Planning Committee?

Does Mr. Swim's offer still stand?

Since it is difficult to keep informed of all that is happening, I believe that such a story would be informative.

Respectfully,
J. H. Phillips

Editor's Reply:

Last April Dudley Swim did indeed offer the Area Planning Commission a donation of $100,000 to buy 55 acres on Jacks Peak on condition that part of this acreage become a site for the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula. As an alternative he offered a $100,000 loan for down payments or options on properties considered highly desirable for park lands.

We have discussed the questions in Gen. Phillips' letter with Keith Evans, Chairman of the Area Plancom, with Admiral Tod Singleton, chairman of the Core Committee of citizens who advise and assist the commission, and with Mr. Swim himself.

Mr. Swim told us he never heard from the Area Planning Commission beyond a formal acknowledgement of his offer, and that he had been for some time quite disappointed in the matter. He had hoped that other property owners would come forth with similar offers, he said. He believes strongly that neighborly co-operation and philanthropy, rather than governmental action such as a park district, is the answer to the preservation of open space. Is his offer still open?

"I'm still in the same general mood," says Mr. Swim. But with the preliminary report of the County Council for Conservation and Planning still in the offing, he is not at this time in a position to commit himself specifically.

Mr. Evans told us, "Dudley Swim's offer was acknowledged and interest expressed. But one of the problems is that there is no agency that can properly accept the offer. To me this is a perfect argument for a park and conservation district! If we had such a district, empowered to accept and implement offers such as that of Mr. Swim we would be a great deal better off..."

Admiral Singleton told us that he hopes offers such as Mr. Swim's will be included in the forthcoming recommendation of the Council for Conservation and Planning. In case our readers are confused about just which group that is, it is the one recently formed under the leadership of Supervisor Tom Hudson. To it belong most of the largest property owners in the region. They have hired their own planning firm and promise a preliminary report next month.

Dear Editor:

This is to congratulate you on your fine Supplement in connection with "National Art Week - 1964." It seems to me that your paper is realizing the potentialities of the concentrated artist talent on our Peninsula. You are doing a service to the individual artists as well as the artist community as a whole by your weekly features under the "Peninsula Palette" and now in this Supplement.

I would like to commend also your Mr. Duke Scott for his part in this work. He has brought together a fine selec-attorney James Nielson, also a Mid-Valley resident, who has had extensive experience in the organization of incorporated non-profit groups.

Speaking of the meeting called Monday by Supervisor Tom Hudson, gathering together leaders of many Valley communities, Sanders said, "The Supervisor's move to seek better communication with our community is very encouraging, but does not reduce the necessity for the Property Owners Associations to consider federation."

Also this evening at 8:00, an open Board meeting of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association at Tularcitos School will consider the five rezoning applications scheduled for hearing at the November 24 meeting of the County Planning Commission. Details of these applications begin on page 1.

Finally, the Carmel Board of Realtors will initiate the dining facilities at the Carmel Valley Golf & Country Club with their installation of officers at a dinner beginning at 7:30 (cocktail hour, 6:00).

Nov. 11. Leavell's Restaurant was reported burglarized some time between 2:45 the previous day and noon of the 11th. The burglar took $30 in cash from a piggy bank intended for an Elks Club charity and $5 from a can for donations to muscular dystrophy, one quart of Jack Daniels whiskey, one case of Olympia beer, and 2 1/2 sirloins of beef, valued at $67.50. Entry was made by prying open the back door with a half-inch metal bar. The investigation is continuing.

A resident of Esquiline Road reported that the top of her water storage tank had been opened by breakage of the hinges to a two x two-foot cover and dirt thrown into the tank. She was worried about the possibility that a child might fall into the tank. Children in the area were questioned by the sheriff's deputy, but no information was developed.

Nov. 12. A Salinas resident reported six spring wagon wheels valued at $120 taken from property she owns on Carmel Valley Road in the Mid-Valley area. The property has been rented and the wheels were stored in a shed; the tenant had no knowledge of when they were taken. They were natural wood-color wheels with yellow paint on the wooden part of the rim.

The Halloween Carnival at Tularcitos, a great success for most of the children who attended, almost ended in tragedy for the Andreas Wolf family. Two teen-age boys stood outside a gas station in Carmel Valley Village amusing themselves by throwing eggs at children riding the miniature train imported for the occasion. Miss Lindsay Wolf, aged 4, was struck in the eye and received a painful scratch on the white of the eyeball from one of the broken eggshells. Doctor's treatment was required. Riding with Lindsay were her older sister Audrey, 9, and younger brother Sister, 2. For all three children, the evening turned out to be a pretty miserable experience, their mother reports.

ing the new Business Property Owners Association; Leonard Williams, chairman of the lower Valley advisory committee to plancom, John Williams of the Farm Bureau; CV Chamber of Commerce president Rex White, Dr. William Pratt of Carmel Valley Manor; Mike Sullivan with Col. Paul J. Black and H. T. Sutcliffe of Hacienda Carmel; Mrs. Milton Frumkin representing the Mid-Valley Property Owners, Jack Bodo with Cdr. Ralph Botten representing the Farm Center Association; General James Phillips representing the Rancho Vio Vista Property Owners Association and "Step" Tyner representing the Carmel Knolls.

"My calling you together has been interpreted by some as a canny political move to head off a possible federation of the various property owners groups in Carmel Valley," Hudson said as he opened the meeting.

"That is not the case at all. Federation is a separate thing and might even be a good idea, but my proposal is quite different."

"I am faced with the problem of getting expression of opinion from Carmel Valley -- not particularly from any one organization," he said, explaining why he had invited representatives from a variety of groups.

"Does anybody object to this procedure?" he inquired. After a few moments during which no one replied, he next asked, "Does anyone think it will do anything but help Carmel Valley?"

Dr. Marcucci responded warmly that he thought the proposal for regular informal discussions "one of the best we have come up with for a long time."

Lou Gardner and Jack Bodo also expressed approbation and Ralph Botten declared, "I can say that I concur."

Pointing out the divergent interests present, Hudson observed, "We have here businessmen, property owners, residents of retirement homes. If we cannot get some good from the combination, we are missing an opportunity."

POPULATION

Encouraged by Hudson to express opinions frankly and to list problems which Valleyites would like to see solved, George Brown asked, "Has the County ever fixed an ultimate saturation point for population in Carmel Valley?"

"Only insofar as the Master Plan does so," Hudson replied, adding, "Maybe this will get the discussion started!"

Brown pointed out that the Valley Master Plan projects a population of 20,000 in 1980, but goes no further and sets no ultimate figure. "Our people are uneasy now because they do not know what kind of community can be expected to develop here," he said. "They would be more at ease if we had a realistic figure -- we know it would be more than 20,000 ultimately. We should have a saturation figure as a basis on which to build our slope-density formula."

Lou Gardner objected to the concept of limiting population. "When you pick one of the choicest pieces of real estate in the United States and try to set a limit on how many may live here, it is not constitutional or moral," he declared.

General Phillips opined that the water supply would automatically limit population. "Trying to bring in enough water for 80,000 or even 40,000 people would cost far too much," he declared. He felt that architectural controls could also limit population as well as determine the character of development.

Jack Bodo and "Step" Tyner supported Brown's request for an ultimate population goal, but Hudson replied, "Formulas such as that have proven less than satisfactory in other regions."

Tyner answered him by saying, "Some guidelines are needed, even though we know they are subject, like any law, to interpretation by various officials at various times."

"Frankly, there is the suspicion among us," Tyner also told Hudson, "that the supervisors will try to put something over on the people. This is an outgrowth of the fact that the decision on the Alcan case was apparently pulled out of a hat. People are objecting."

Hudson replied that the County "can point with pride to its record in Carmel Valley. In eight years we had a record of doing what the property owners wanted 100% of the time. Too strong words were used at the Alcan hearing, and being only human, the Supervisors no doubt reacted."

Regarding retirement communities in Carmel Valley, Hudson observed, "I have been criticized for inviting representatives from the retirement homes here today, but I take the position that they are residents, and very superior kinds of people at that, and we are delighted to have them."

"If they join the property owners groups, they are in a position of seeming to swamp them, especially those which do not have many members," Hudson continued. "That seems to explain their reticence to join, as I understand it."

George Brown said he would like to "state publicly that the CVPOA has never thought of rejecting our retired citizens. We have nothing but respect for them. If there is any other impression, it's a fallacy."

Col. Black of the Hacienda remarked that criticisms of the Hacienda's buildings, specifically their proximity to each other, "has made some sensitive people mighty unhappy."

"Even if we joined your association, we could not swamp you," he said. "Our own association rules prevent our acting as a group. In addition, our members differ as much in their opinions as do members of any group."

After more than two hours of discussion, the group agreed to reconvene on December 14. Tentative plans are to meet monthly until some of the problems briefly touched on last Monday are nearer solution. As the meeting prepared to break up, Supervisor Hudson, noting that Dr. Pratt had not expressed himself, remarked, "Bill, you haven't said anything."

"If these meetings are all to be as free-wheeling as this one, kept in this spirit, I think they will be most useful," the Rev. Pratt replied. "As a sounding board, they should be an excellent medium."

Jack Bodo lastly made a plea to those present, that "Bygones be bygones! Let us meet together on a friendly basis and not be cautious about each other!" Turning to Hudson, he concluded, "It is your duty to keep us informed; it is also your duty to abide by what the majority wants."

To the 5 out of 10 people

a sporting proposition

Take a no-obligation test drive in a 1965 Ford. Maybe you just couldn't believe the ad (reprinted above) which appeared in this paper a few weeks ago. After all, many consider Rolls-Royce to be one of the world's finest cars. But Ford does ride quieter. The world's leading acoustical experts (Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc.) made the tests. The U. S. Auto Club certified the results.

This year's Ford has the strongest body ever... a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibrations... new ultrasoft coil-spring suspensions—all contributing to the new hushed ride. But the ride is only part of what's new.

■ New swept-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room. ■ Transmission tunnel is lower than in competing cars for extra foot room. ■ Trunk has more usable space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright.

■ New ultra-luxurious LTD series—unmatched by any other car in Ford's class. ■ Silent-Flo ventilation (standard on 4-door hardtops) removes stale air, provides fresh air even with all windows closed. ■ Exclusive new twin-edge key—works with either side up.

■ Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models.

■ Smooth, thrifty all-new Big Six in other models—the most powerful standard Six offered by any car in Ford's class. ■ V-8 options to 425 hp.

■ All Ford automatic transmissions have 3 speeds, not 2 as in many competing cars. ■ Fully synchronized manual transmissions—you can even shift down to first without clashing gears.

If all this sounds like a lot for one car to offer... take a test drive. See why more people are buying Fords than ever before in post-war history.

First Aid

Members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department took the Red Cross Ambulance to a spot 500 yards west of the Los Laureles Grade Road on the Carmel Valley Road where Martha L. Williams had received multiple lacerations of the right leg and a fractured vertebra in her neck. The call was received at 10:27 a.m. November 11. Miss Williams of 4 Sage Road was transported to the Monterey Hospital.

Douglas A. Jeffreys, Box 1 Star Route, Carmel Valley, a medical emergency, was taken from the office of a Valley Doctor to the Monterey Hospital at 11:00 a.m. November 11 by members of the first aid squad of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department.

Under the Oaks and Among the Cactus

by Mildred Hattan

An "old oak leaf cluster" to Dr. E. P. Marcucci, chairman of the Carmel Valley Business District Community Chest fund drive, whose territory was the first on the Peninsula to exceed its quota in the current United Red Feather Campaign.

Mrs. George Dwyer, general chairman of the successful Halloween Carnival sponsored by the Tularcitos Parents Club, invited chairmen and committee members of the event to the White Oaks Coffee Shop Thursday morning for a Koffee. Mrs. Dwyer presented a resume of the major money-making project for the club for this year, and in turn listened to ideas and suggestions for what it is hoped will become an annual affair. Mrs. Dwyer is preparing a file of the preparation involved in this year's carnival which will be presented to Parents Club president, John Sigourney, and should prove invaluable in assisting with next year's program.

A list was assembled of the many business houses and individuals who in some way contributed to making the evening so successful. Special thank you's to all of the parents who baked, contributed and attended and to the following: Rancho Carmelo, Village Liquor, Larry Cummings Real Estate, Village house, General Store, Carmel Valley Lions Club, Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary, V.F.W. Seaside Post, Wolters Market, Carmel Valley Market, Getz Meat Market, Totsie's, Farm Milk, MelMark, Mrs. Wilmot, Dr. Edward Marcucci, Ken Van Hagen, Mal Tavares and Mrs. Lucille Chambers.

Thanks also to Costume Parade judges Mrs. Chris Engleman, Mrs. Don Cummings, Don Weber, and George Friedl. Thanks especially to the targets for wet sponges: George Palmer, John Sigourney, and Charles Gansel. Attending the Koffee were Mrs. Louise Neidinger, Mary Eckerd, Mary Wilsey, Carole Viljoen, Nancy Engleman, Vee Baker, Myrna Loftin, Thelma Lee, Betty Averyt, Betty Davis, Joan Hopkins, Priscilla Raynes and Barbara Huss.

Home from five exciting days at the Dunes Hotel in Las Vegas as guests of Standard Oil Company are Mr. and Mrs. William "Bud" Hall. The trip was awarded to Bud who placed sixth in tire sales among dealers from Healdsburg to King City (including the Bay area and San Jose).

The Halls toured Hoover Dam, saw such headliners as Ella Fitzgerald and Joey Bishop, and shows which included "Hello America" and "Something Funny Happened on the Way to the Forum."

Speaking of travelers, Vivian and Jerry Federo, home from a combined business and pleasure trip through southern California and Arizona, phoned to say that last week's item about an establishment named "The Pour House" made them think of the shop where Jerry had his hair cut called, "The Hairport!"

Members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department, their wives and invited guests attended the second annual Masquerade Ball sponsored by the department Saturday evening at the Carmel Valley Inn. Couples danced to the music of Frosty Durland and his combo, and enjoyed numerous dishes from the buffet table set in the Garden Room.

Partygoers had combed attics and their imaginations for their evening's attire. Social chairman George Palmer and his wife, Dorothy, were buckskin-clad early American Indians. Mr. and Mrs. Don Weber dressed as Mr. and Mrs. Poncho Villa. A beautiful purple-clad harem dancer, Mrs. Michael Carter, arrived with a sailor, her husband. Makeup and costumes were outstanding on Harlequin clowns, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hampton, tramp clowns, Mr. and Mrs. George Gansel, and rodeo clown in a fright wig, Fire Chief, Chip Collins.

It was discovered that Johnny Anderson, clad in kilts (and petti pants) has very attractive knees, as does Dean ("Paladin") Diaz who portrayed his San Francisco character in a top hat, tails, shorts, and cowboy boots! He was accompanied by Jenny as Kitty with startling gold hair. Another couple from a saloon on the Barbary Coast were Mrs. Richard McKenzie in a period costume and foot-long eyelashes and Dick, whose costume included a handsomely embroidered vest.

Mark Hattan as "Sterling Mess," Mrs. Tony Steliga and Mrs. George Baker as pom pom girls, Mrs. Doris Anderson as "Diamond Lil" and Larry Cummings as Confucius were a few more of the revelers at the Saturday night affair.

Among the invited guests were recent Valley arrivals, Joyce and Bill Nelson, who are making their home on Lower Circle in the former Drew residence. A Navy couple, the Nelsons arrived from an assignment in Hawaii in August so that Bill could enroll at the Naval Post Grad School. They have two sons, Jerry and David, who attend the Naval Air Facility Nursery School three days a week while their mom is in class at MPC.

Arriving Friday from her home in Commerce, Texas, for her first Peninsula visit in eight years was Mrs. Gladys Hutt. Mrs. Hutt is visiting her nieces and their families, Mrs. A. A. Collins and Mrs. Reginald Bennett; and her sister, Mrs. S. N. Trevino, who is spending a month in the Valley from her home in Lima, Peru.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudi Bautz are currently entertaining the most honored guest ever to stay at Los Laureles Lodge. Mrs. Bautz's mother, Mrs. Josephine Betlach, will remain with her daughter and son-in-law for six months. Of Podesbrady, Czechoslovakia, Mrs. Betlach flew from Prague to New York to San Francisco. It was her first plane trip and has served to make her a dedicated flyer.

The reunion is the first in sixteen years for the trio who have not seen each other since 1948 when the Bautzes fled Czechoslovakia. Mrs. Betlach, who has a youthfulness which belies her seventy years, swam daily in the lodge pool before our rains came, and has been an enthusiastic tourist on trips to Las Vegas, Yosemite, Bryce and Grand Canyons, and other points of interest that they have explored during her five weeks in our country.

Welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sweet who arrived to make their full time home on Nido Way and Country Club Drive in time for Jeff, 13, Randy, 11, and Becky, 7, to begin the Fall school term in the Valley. They had purchased their home some time ago and commuted from San Leandro on weekends until Mr. Sweet received word that he would have charge of the Peter Paul Candy Plant currently under construction in Salinas. The building itself is completed, and it is hoped that the machinery will be installed by January.

Guest speakers at the weekly dinner meeting of the Carmel Valley Lions Club held Wednesday at the Plaza Linda were Major Peter J. Bartelloni and Sgt. Don Kochene who were introduced by Program Chairman George Baker. The two men, representing Fort Ord Hospital, gave a detailed discussion, illustrated with slides, graphs and charts, of the present meningitis problem.

Boleros made by the Lionettes for the Lions to wear at official functions were distributed during the meeting. Yellow felt trimmed in purple, the garments were initiated at the Hootenanny at the Warehouse. Nick Skalyo, high bidder in the spirited auction for a child's tee shirt with the Lion's emblem, donated it as a door prize for the Sunday Hootenanny. Winner of the weekly dinner prize was Maury Nessel.

Honey and Jack Lundin had a marvelous time shopping and relaxing for a week at Palm Springs. Their travels took them as far as the Mexican border and while south they toured Disneyland. The latter restores them to a conversational level with their grandchildren, who had made several visits to the amusement park and felt that the Lundins were not very well traveled!

Garden Club Now Has Library

The Carmel Valley Garden Association has begun a small library, to be kept at the home of its president, Salih Mehdy. The club so far has purchased nine volumes, including "A Garden Dictionary." Several other volumes have been donated. Books were selected by a committee composed of Dr. Jacob Zarski, Mrs. Anders Larsen, and Mrs. John Woolfenden.

NEWS FROM HACIENDA CARMEL

by Edward G. Petherick

ANGLE WORMS ARE SMART

All during trout season, the anglers at Hacienda Carmel had to buy angle worms for bait, as they could find none in their gardens. But, now that trout season is over, the heavy rains of the past week have proved that there are hundreds of worms here. Apparently they are smarter than our fishermen. During the rains, worms were all over the walkways and patios, evidently trying to keep from drowning.

There is an old saying among fishermen, that you have to think like a fish if you are going to catch one. This probably applies to angle worms also, but, how does one think like a worm? We know how to wiggle, but which end does the thinking? (A worm is a worm.)

CARMEL JUNIOR HIGH STRINGED GROUP

A few days ago, members of Hacienda Carmel had the pleasure of hearing a group of young musicians from Carmel Junior High, playing stringed instruments. Several different numbers were rendered by these Junior Cats, and it was a pleasure not only to listen, but to watch the various musicians in their enthusiastic approach to the piece at hand. We hope they will visit us again soon.

OUTDOOR SPORTS RAINED OUT
The downpour of the past week just about eliminated all outdoor activities at Hacienda Carmel, and a trip to the Pinnacles and San Juan Bautista was also cancelled.

At present, however, the Tours Committee has a group signed up for a matinee in San Francisco on November 21, to see "My Fair Lady," with a stop for luncheon along the way, and this trip will be held, rain or shine.

TRAVELLERS RETURN
The Charles Robinsons having been snowed "out" at Lake Tahoe, have returned after a sojourn of several months at that beautiful spot. The A.J. Kettmans also locked up their home at Tahoe and are home for the winter.

Jane Barrows, after a slow boat trip to Greece, visited Paris, London and other points of interest, spending four months along the way, also visited New York and Portland, Oregon, but is now bedded down once again in Hacienda Carmel.

The O.B. Smalls returned from England a month sooner than expected, but are very happy to be back.

Valley "Fare" Successful Day

BY JULIE POWER

The Community Chapel Guild's Valley "Fare" Day was an outstanding success, and Mrs. L.L. Dickie, General Chairman of the event extends the Guild's appreciation and thanks to all who participated to make it the success it was. Even the weatherman cooperated. Mrs. Dickie is especially proud of her various chairmen who worked so willingly on their respective gift and food tables - and, of course, thanks to members for their generous donations.

A supply of Valley "Fare" Cookbooks is still available, so if anyone failed to get a copy it is not too late. They can be had by contacting either Mrs. Elbert Wade, 659-4444 or Mrs. Thomas B. McKiernon, 659-2833. These Carmel Valley cookbooks make wonderful Christmas remembrances, or additions to Christmas gifts, for out-of-Valley friends and relatives. Why not get one - or several!

MPC Bond Issue Early Next Year

February 16, 1965, was set as the date for a bond issue for facilities for Monterey Peninsula College at Thursday night's meeting of the Board of Trustees. Charles E. Simpson, former Monterey Chief of Police, was announced as chairman of the citizens' committee for the election.

The action followed a report by Fred Keeble of the architectural firm of Keeble and Rhoda, on the college's master plan. This calls for a four-stage building and expansion program which would start in April 1966, and wind up at the end of 1968.

Dr. George J. Faul, MPC President, stated that if the bond election passes, he estimates the college will receive over a million and a half dollars from state and federal sources.

In view of this, the trustees voted to hold an adjourned meeting November 18, to determine the exact amount of the February bond issue.

Birthday Party For Community Church

A first birthday celebration for the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula included 175 members and friends of the congregation who sang "Happy Birthday" to each other as Mrs. Dudley Swim presided over the cutting of an anniversary cake. Special guests of honor at the dinner held last Thursday were Mr. and Mrs. Shelley Schoonover of Monterey, whose Golden Wedding anniversary fell on that date.

At a business meeting following the dinner, appointment of the Rev. Burkert Cree as permanent minister was formally announced and officers and department directors for the following year were elected. Serving as president will be Mr. L.J. Fletcher; as vice president, Dr. Ernest Gatcombe; Mrs. Wallace Burde will be the secretary, and Mr. A.G. Mott the treasurer. Rev. Cree will conduct worship services for the first time on November 22 at the Nix Studio, Mission & 8th Streets, Carmel.

Community Chapel Seeks Blankets

Blanket Sunday will be observed on November 29, the first Sunday in Advent, by the Carmel Valley Community Chapel, in cooperation with the Church World Service. Blankets, draperies, and bedspreads are sent overseas by the larger organization for the benefit of the needy in many parts of the world.

Anyone who can contribute these items is invited to bring them to the Community Chapel Thrift Shop, from which they will be forwarded to Modesto. The Shop is open Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

The Chapel bulletin makes this appeal, "Your blanket may be the difference between destitution and a measure of security to some poor person who has lost his home, perhaps even his family, in swirling flood waters or howling storm winds."

NEW LIBRARIAN AT RIVER SCHOOL

Mrs. Gertrude Nesbit is the new librarian at River School, on duty six hours per day, five days a week. Formerly, she was a librarian with the Palo Alto school system, and is especially qualified in the cataloging and processing of books.

Mrs. Dorothy Reading of Carmel Valley resigned from the position at River School to become librarian at the Naval Postgraduate School.

SUNSET GAME

Tonight, Wednesday, November 18 there will be a flag football game at 6:30 p.m. under the lights at Sunset School. The local team will play Noche Buena School of Seaside.

ADULT SEWING CLASS

Carmel Adult School is presenting a new sewing unit in pattern drafting, to continue until the end of January. Restyling garments to suit the individual figure, adaptation of commercial patterns, and a holiday unit to include decorative sewing for gifts will be included. Classes will convene on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. and new and former students will be welcome on either or both nights -- room 2 at the High School. Miss Esther Ellis, instructor.

A Lot For Loners

You can build your house high on a 2½ acre hill and look haughtily down on the Valley Village far below, or happily across at the neighborly Santa Lucia mountains, gloating in the knowledge that no one can find your private road. Besides the privacy, there's the south-east-west view in the sunlight and moonlight, a natural shelf for house-building, and several very dramatic oaks. The price is $16,000 and firm.

But If You're Gregarious, we have three very desirable acres in the same general location with the same general view for $30,000. That's only $10,000 for your own building site, and we'll take back a listing on the other two for $12,000 each.

And If you're a Loner

But You Don't Want to Build a House,

we can give you a complete adobe hideaway including a magnificent grove of oak trees, a glorious swimming pool, on two full acres, up on this same mountain, complete, for $52,500.

at the top of El Caminito (former T.M. Chapman property) from an 11-acre minimum site zoning to condominium recreational.

10:50 a.m.: Diamond N Company seeks rezoning of land on Miramonte Rd. from agricultural-residential to single family residential for the development of a subdivision. According to County Planning Technician Pat Kennedy, Laurence S. Bogert has submitted a plot plan which is "not a cluster plan as such." Lots average 1 acre in size; no open space is projected.

11:10 a.m.: A. Russel Galloway seeks rezoning to subdivide 210 acres behind Carmel Knolls and Rancho Rio Vista, near High Meadows. According to Miss Kennedy, access could be either through the two Valley subdivisions or through Aguajito.

1:30 p.m.: Galen Egbert, in a request continued from last month, seeks rezoning from single to multiple residential for property located on Ford Rd. across from Tularcitos School. Nearby Valley Lodge is built on C-1 (light commercial) property.

2:00 p.m.: Coast Counties Land and Title Company seeks rezoning of the William Hudson property south of Carmel Rancho Shopping Center to allow construction of a motel, restaurant, stores, offices, and a service station. A general development plan for the 32-acre parcel on Highway One has been submitted.

USE PERMITS

3:10 p.m.: The Carmel Valley Outlook requests a use permit to add a room behind their new offices on Carmel Valley Road just west of Reuben's. The newspaper's printing press would be installed in the new room. All construction on commercial property requires a use permit, Miss Kennedy explains.

3:15 p.m.: Earl and Smart ask a use permit to construct a rest-

Questions & Answers
On Health Problems

BY JAMES J. SHORT, M. D.

Q. "How do we know when we get enough fat in our diet? And not too much? Or how much fat should be included in our diet?"

A. I wish I could give a satisfactory reply. I think it has been quite well established that the average American takes 40% or more of his total calories daily as fat. Twenty-five percent would be more desirable, according to the best evidence we have at the present time. This statement, of course, is made in reference to the prevention of damage to the arteries from cholesterol and kindred substances.

How shall we keep our fats within bounds without becoming forever obsessed with the diet problem? How shall we eat sensibly without measuring or weighing all our food? How shall we know when to draw the line on certain items? How shall we know what foods to avoid? Perhaps I can give a few worthwhile suggestions:

First of all, watch your weight. Learn what it should be and try to keep it there -- not by constant up and down, roller-coaster programs of over-eating and then resorting to a crash starvation diet, but by maintaining a constant check by the scales every morning. This is my own plan. Years ago, I had a friend in New York, a doctor, who went even further than this. Before going out to eat, he'd step on the scales to decide whether or not he'd take a dessert. This is being a bit extreme, perhaps, but it worked for him. I'd suggest to my inquirer that the regular diet consist of fruits, vegetables, and proteins in liberal quantities, that only whole grain products be used, that eggs and dairy products be included in the diet, and that all fats be used sparingly. One can learn to like buttermilk, skim milk, cottage cheese, and the low-fat processed cheeses, if he tries. I don't advocate an austerity diet. There's comfort and social value in the pleasure of eating, but the over-abstemious ones who eat with a sad countenance and eliminate everything that tastes good, might make good monks, but they're poor physiologists. Happiness, joy, and serenity are excellent ingredients in any dietary regimen. Without these ingredients the organs don't function well and the nutrition suffers. One further point: Although not over 25% of fats in the daily total calories has been recommended, this may not be so important as the kind of fats we eat. At the present state of our knowledge, it seems best to avoid highly saturated fats and stick to the polyunsaturates.

aurant, motel, service station, trailer court, signs and cocktail lounge on previously rezoned land on the Coast Highway near the Camaldoli hermitage.

3:20 p.m.: F.M. Lansdowne has applied for two panhandle lots in La Rancheria. Since that tract has only private roads, use permits must be obtained for all homes constructed therein, Miss Kennedy explains.

3:30 p.m.: Charles Shaw has applied for a panhandle lot on the Coast Highway just south of Big Sur.

3:40 p.m.: Alcan Pacific Corporation, recently granted rezoning by the County Board of Supervisors for the Del Mesa Carmel property in lower Carmel Valley, now seeks a use permit to allow construction of the project. At this hearing, CVPOA president George Brown told the Outlook early this week, the property owners group will be represented by the San Francisco legal firm of Heller, Ehrman, White and McAuliffe.

Clever Comedy At Circle

BY DOROTHY REED

Venus Observed, a comedy by Christopher Fry, now playing weekends at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre, is what its name implies -- an observation, rather than a drama. Crackling with witty thrusts and ripostes, it confines action pretty much to the verbal level and leaves one needing to go home and read it over, to savor the lines

Poet and Harpist to Perform at Tantomount

Spotlight will focus on stage again at the Tantomount Theatre on Middle Canyon Road on Sunday evening, November 29, to light "The Bard and the Harp," a theatrical blending of words and music presented in person by James Broughton, poet, and Joel Andrews, harpist.

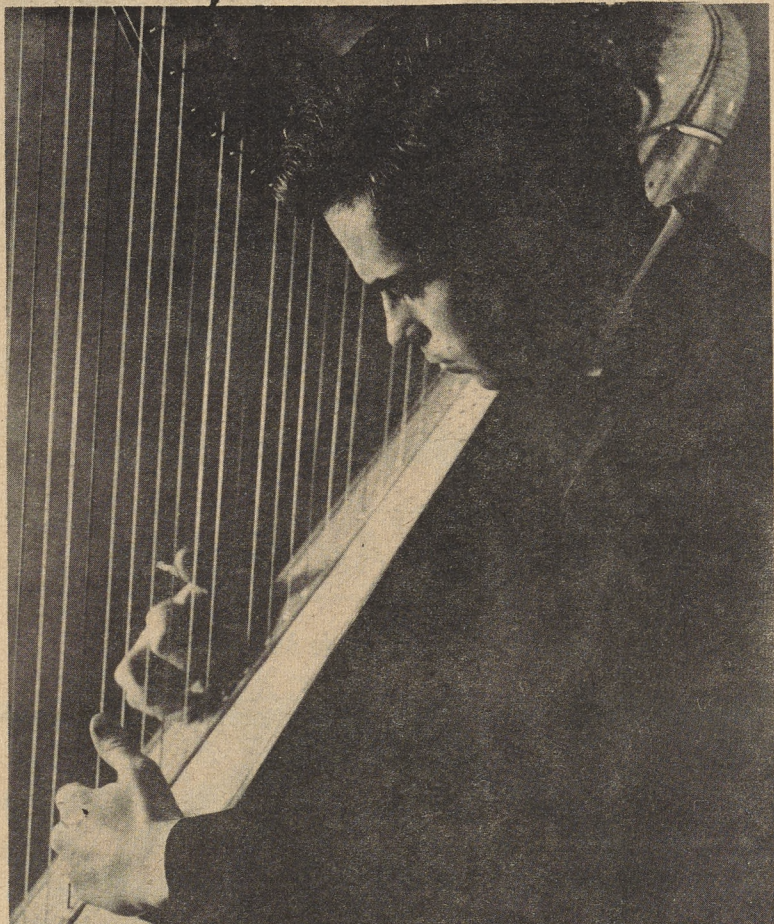

The engagement, according to Ralph Geddis and Francois Martin, proprietors of the Tantomount, continues an established policy of the theatre to bring to its stage out-of-the-ordinary fare of high professional standard.

James Broughton is a San Francisco poet and playwright with many volumes to his credit, who has also gained international recognition for his films which have won awards at Cannes, Venice, and Edinburgh. His latest work for the stage, "How Pleasant It Is To Have Money," is currently running at San Francisco's Playhouse.

Joel Andrews, a virtuoso performer on the harp, is the founder of a national harp festival, at which he served as director, conductor, and soloist, and which in its second year attracted 50 harpists. He has appeared on the concert stage, in films, on television and radio, demonstrating that the harp can be a strong and masculine instrument.

A recent San Francisco performance by the two received an enthusiastic notice from critic Stanley Eichelbaum, "...Broughton's verses, which the author read with splendid showmanship, have enough humor, whimsy and dramatic flair to keep an audience constantly absorbed and amused. And they are precisely in the proper key for the silvery sounds of the harp. Andrews, whose playing was superb, gave each poem a delightful musical setting..."

The program is booked for 8:00 p.m. on Sunday, November 29 only. All seats are $2, and because of the theatre's limited capacity of 144 seats, Geddis and Martin recommend reservations. These may be made at 659-2405.

A.F.A. Christmas Sale Set For December 1

Christmas creations, many of them the work of professional artists and craftsmen of the Monterey Peninsula, will be on sale to the public at the annual show sponsored by the local chapter of the American Federation of Arts. It will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, December 1 and 2, at the Mark Thomas Inn. Mrs. Robert E. Work has been named general chairman of the show, and will be assisted in an overall capacity by Mrs. Robert Stanton, Mrs. Jennison Heaton, and Ritchie Dunn.

Committee chairmen will include Mrs. William Arnold in charge of Christmas items for sale, such as wreaths, table decorations and other ornaments; Mrs. Barbara Tripp will head display; Mrs. Edward Wedlake is chairman for the Champagne preview on the evening of December 1; Mrs. August Armanasco is in charge of hostesses; Mrs. Clyn Smith heads ticket sales and prize activities; Mrs. Phillip H. Smith will handle publicity. Hostesses for an International Night planned for December 3 will be headed by Mrs. Hans von Richter.

Tickets for the Christmas Creations show are available at A.F.A. headquarters at Lincoln and Ocean Streets in Carmel.

CV Kiwanis Hears Publisher

The changing role and responsibility of newspapers in their community was the topic of a talk by F.K. Arthur, Jr., editor and publisher of the Monterey Peninsula Herald, to Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon last week.

Pres. Tom Hefling announced that the annual installation dinner will be Saturday night, December 5 at Los Laureles Lodge; Bill Mallek will be installed as president.

At the suggestion of Jack Uzzell, the Kiwanis Club will take the lead in sponsoring a testimonial affair for former Fire Chief O. T. Valnizza, and Assistant Chief Ed Mayfield.

Joe Ricupero displayed the new Kiwanis Club bowling team shirts and thanked the club for them.

Al Fry, who has been ill, was welcomed back at the club meeting.

Events for the Art Lover

As the holidays approach and all the merchants on the Peninsula remain open for the eager shopper, we would like to remind you that most of the art galleries in that area also extend their hours for your convenience. So, in the rush of these next few hectic weeks, why not take the time to relax and enjoy one of the fine exhibits on display? Here are a few of the main events:

American Federation Of Arts

A new one-man show, just opened, of Bradford Smith's woodcuts and sculptures. Mr. Smith is an extremely talented young man from the San Francisco Bay area, whose work you might enjoy if only because this current show is the product of a man in his twenties. Most people I have spoken to agree that he will be recognized as great in his own lifetime.

Carmel Art Association

Regular monthly exhibit of new paintings and sculptures by active members of the CAA will hang until December 3. A special exhibit of "rental" paintings and sculptures will be held in the Beardsley Room. Bargain shoppers might like to investigate the "Under $100 Exhibit" featured during the month of December.

Laky Galleries

Monte's second one-man exhibition at the Laky Galleries consists of a new collection painted in Europe this year. William Monte Anderson is another of the young, impressive, artists exhibiting on the peninsula.

sula. His approach and technique are different - wildly imaginative and boldly brilliant; this showing is a kaleidoscopic riot. On view through November 27.

S. C. Yuan

This artist's work is being shown at the Carmel Art Association, the Laky Galleries, the Home Galleries, and Galerie Solavey, to mention a few. Here is a painter that should in our opinion, have a permanent one-man show. No matter where you encounter his work you will leave feeling better for having seen it.

Carmel Valley Art Gallery

Insist on viewing the new delicate watercolors of Donald Teague. Also featured here is an exquisite nude by Jesse Corsaut.

S.A.S. Gallery

Leslie Emery, the hands down man-in-the-street favorite of the general public, has a fine varied collection here.

Hilltop Art Gallery

A new gallery in the lobby of the Hilltop Service in Pacific Grove features the work of Valleyite Dick Crispo, 1964 first prize winner of the California State Fair. Also of interest is the oil-on-cork work of Bruce Keith of Los Altos, still another new face, new talent, on the go.

THIS NEWSPAPER HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERYBODY, including those who like to look for mistakes!

that whip by so fast.

It centers around a Duke, played by Frederick Rider, an amateur astronomer and an amateur of ladies, though it seems unlikely that he ever stops talking long enough to be really effective at either. He combines his two hobbies by assembling his three mistresses in the observatory room of his mansion, ostensibly to view an eclipse of the sun, but really to be viewed themselves by the son of the duke, who is to choose one of them for his father to marry. The poor boy selects first one and then another by a secret signal; they pay him not the slightest attention, being completely absorbed in his father.

As the son, Terry Poland gives a sympathetic portrayal of a young man seeking some small territory of his own in the shadow of a father who has pre-empted every talent. He is more of a character than a caricature, as is Marcia Hovick, who plays the most human of the Duke's paramours. If the test of acting is truly to sound as though the lines one repeats sprang that moment from one's brain, then Mrs. Hovick is the actress of this performance. Much of the responsibility, of course, must be borne by the lines, and it is doubtful whether Christopher Fry himself who wrote them could make some of the speeches in this play sound spontaneous. As a matter of fact, they undoubtedly weren't.

Gertrude Chappell, as a second mistress, has a part that comes reasonably close to making sense, while Ruth McElroy as the third is completely -- but delightfully -- out of it!

The plot is thickened by a handful of family retainers, each of them unique. The estate manager, played by Dick Bird, helps himself to modest slices of the Duke's income for completely unselfish reasons; he is taken to task by his son, Keith Decker, a most censorious prig. A butler and footman, played by Allen Weinfeld and John Seeley complete the household; one of them is an ex-liontamer, the other an ex-burglar, and they can't stand each other.

Into this welter is flung the estate manager's daughter, an innocent young thing just out of jail, who enchants on sight both the amorous duke and his hitherto unawakened son. Marcia Rider in this role evokes understanding but not much empathy. An audience can participate easily in the Juliet phenomenon -- that is, any reasonably attractive heroine can project the conquest of almost any given man, human tastes being as diverse as they are. To be a Helen, however, and knock out a whole

Health Agencies Plan Campaigns

The National Health Agencies met at the U.S.O. Building last month and elected new officers for next year.

Mrs. Jack McEvoy, representing Muscular Dystrophy Association, was elected Chairman. Mrs. Bea Testa, representing United Cerebral Palsy, was elected Treasurer. The Vice-Chairman is Mrs. L. E. Rumrill with the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, and Secretary is Mr. John Johnson from the Heart Association.

Other members of the National Health Agencies are Mental Health, Retarded Children's Association, National Cystic Fibrosis, March of Dimes, Multiple Sclerosis Society, Crippled Children and Adults Society, Society for the Prevention of Blindness, and American Cancer Society.

The consolidated fund drive will begin in January and will be solicited from local federal employees. Each agency will, in addition, have its individual drive within the civilian community.

squadron at a time, requires a visible--almost palpable--personal magnetism.

So the total effect, while fun, is more of a memorization than a play. The scene that comes closest to force is a splendid simulation of fire in the observatory, where the illusion of height and flames and smoke is compelling.

One retains the conviction, however, that the lady, like another of Fry's heroines, is not for burning, and sure enough, she is not even for singeing as she descends through the fire, or for gathering a smudge of soot on her cheek.

The ending is pure musical comedy, needing only to be sung as the duke shifts marital gears smoothly -- ("After much debate internal I on Rosabel decide. I'm resolved to be paternal; Edgar now may take his bride--")

The settings are subtle and attractive, and the scene-changers' entre-acte, as always at the Circle, diverting. Now that the weather has turned chilly for taking coffee outdoors, perhaps a French maid could be added to dust the furniture between scenes. It should suit the duke's tastes.

Orchestra To Play Memorial Concert

A concert to the memory of the late President John F. Kennedy will take place on Sunday, November 22, in the Music Hall of the Monterey Peninsula College campus. It is open to the public, and no tickets are required.

The Monterey County Symphony Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of John Gosling, will present Wagner's Siegfried Idyll, Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto No. 5," and Schubert's "Symphony No. 5." The chamber group consists of regular members of the County Symphony Orchestra, and Mr. Gosling is its regular conductor.

Ray Fabrizio, flutist, George Nagata, violinist, and Margaret Fabrizio, harpsichordist, will be featured in the Brandenburg Concerto. The concert will be presented "to create a greater interest in live music performances" with the cooperation of Local 616, American Federation of Musicians, through a grant from the Recording Industries' Trust Fund.

New White Oaks Theatre Opens

Ron Mitchell as Jimmy Porter, Mary Pattie as Alison in John Osborne's "Look Back in Anger" opening Saturday night at White Oaks new theatre on Carmel Valley Road.

Repertory Group Presents Drama

BY BARBARA COOK

Part of the White Oaks dream comes true when "Look Back In Anger" opens on Saturday, November 21. It will be the first winter production of a repertory company -- a small group of talented young performers who are living in Carmel Valley, taking classes and performing at White Oaks.

"Look Back In Anger," an exciting and powerful play, also is the first drama to be presented by a theatre that has produced mainly musicals during the summer. However, it is White Oaks' aim to develop well-rounded players who are able to work in all phases of the performing arts.

In honor of this occasion, White Oaks has indicated semi-formal attire for opening night. Those who saw Menotti's "Unicorn, Gorgon and Manticore" together with Stravinsky's "The Soldier's Tale" at the end of this past summer, will be amazed at the transformation that has taken place within the new theatre. Those who have only seen productions in the old barn will now have warmth, better seating, and no obtrusive posts to dodge.

"Look Back In Anger," directed by Eleanor Stoltz, will feature Ron Mitchell in the lead role of Jimmy Porter; Seth Wyn-gate in the role of Jimmy's friend Cliff; Mary Pattie as Jimmy's wife, Alison; Mary Bridgit Mulkey as her friend Helena; and Don Laird as Alison's father. "Look Back In Anger" will play Saturday and Sunday, November 21 and 22, and will continue on Friday and Saturday evenings for five weekends, excluding Christmas and New Year's weekends.

For reservations, call the box office, OL 9-2248, between two and five, Monday through Saturday.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Mexican Film At Tantomount

Peninsula film enthusiasts will have an unusual opportunity on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, when "Yanco" will be screened at Carmel Valley's Tantomount Theatre, prior to first-run showings in California. Curtain time at the Tantomount is 8:40 p.m.

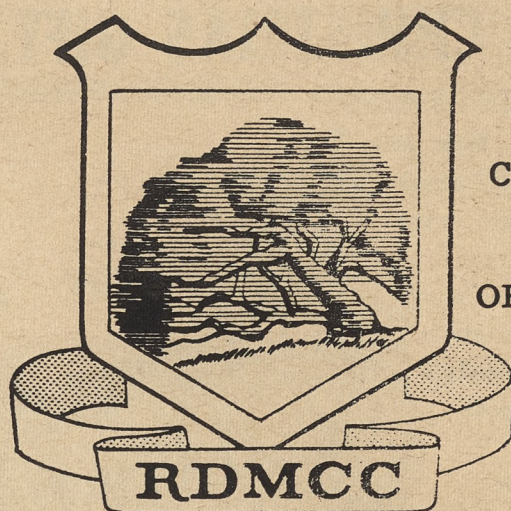

"Yanco" is a Mexican film which won ovations at the New York Film Festival at Lincoln Center this year and also received 16 international awards.

It tells the story of an 8-year old boy who lives in his own secretive world of sound and music, playing on a home-made violin. When he meets an old violinist who gives him lessons on a violin called "Yanco," events work up to a haunting ending.

Carmel Valley Women's Club

BY MARGARET LIFSON

A special treat is in store for members and guests of the Carmel Valley Women's Club at their next meeting, Wednesday, December 2 at the Community Center.

Following the annual Boutique (which we will hear more about next week) will be an organ recital by Mr. Charles Kresky of the Harnish Music Company in Carmel. Mr. Kresky will entertain the ladies with a selection of old favorites and Christmas Carols.

Carmel Woman's Club

BY MYRTLE STODDARD

Mrs. Dudley Miles, house and garden chairman of the Carmel Woman's Club will bring to its members John Ralph Geddis and Francois Martin, actors with puppets, November 23 at 2:00 p.m. Since the founding of their first theatre in Boston in 1931, Geddis and Martin have been hailed internationally for their pioneer work toward re-establishing the puppet theatre in its original concept as an authentic branch of entertainment for the adult audience.

The actors will take turns talking on their behind-the-scenes adventures in Boston, New York, Santa Barbara and in their own Tantomount Theatre in Carmel Valley. They will also demonstrate informally their techniques with puppets, using scenes from their various performances.

Mrs. A.B. Wells will be the substitute hospitality chairman and will have as her assistants, Mmes. Ben Carlton, Leon Edner and Stanley L. Klein.

Presiding at the tea tables will be Miss J.M. Peacock and Mmes. Paul Grady, May Austin and Carl E. Rassmussen.

Women's Democratic Club Annual Meeting

Mrs. Scott Heath of Rancho Rio Vista spoke to the Carmel Women's Democratic Club at its annual meeting on November 12, showing slides taken while she was a delegate to an international anthropological meeting in Moscow.

Outgoing president Ruth Dodds of Los Ranchitos thanked club members for their work in the recent state and national elections and on the Holiday Bazaar. She also thanked merchants who contributed to the Bazaar, including the following from Carmel Valley: Johan's Drapery Shop, Joanne's Sportswear, Brattin Nursery, and Thunderbird Shop.

Carmel contributors were Mediterranean Market, Wishart's Bakery, Cinderella Shop, Sylvia's Danish Bakery, Blum's, Kramer's Specialty Shop, Derek Rayne Shops, Carmel Florist, The Decorator Shop, The Toy Shop.

Elected to office for the coming year were Mrs. John Robotti, president; Mrs. Edgar Viall, vice president; Mrs. Sue Allen, recording secretary; Mrs. Leonard Cohen, treasurer; Mrs. Jerome Carlson, corresponding secretary.

Stamp Club Elects Valleyites

Three Carmel Valley residents were elected officers of the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club at its annual meeting and dinner held last Monday night at Reuben's. Miss Alice Harwood and Miss Winifred Howe, both of Esquiline Road, were installed as president and secretary; Fred Starr of Los Ranchitos is treasurer. Vice-president is Dr. Paul Glibe of Carmel.

William Kuprua of Soledad, a stamp dealer, was the evening's speaker on "The Secret Life of a Stamp Lover."

The club meets regularly on the first and third Mondays of each month at 8:00 p.m. in the faculty room of Carmel High School. It is a chapter of the American Philatelic Society, and meetings are open to all interested persons over 14 years of age.

A junior branch of the club, for children of all ages, meets every Saturday morning at 10:00 at All Saints Church in Carmel, Lincoln Street entrance. Gerald Stout of Carmel heads the young people's group.

Last Saturday, the Carmel High School "Padres" met cross-peninsula rivals, Pacific Grove, in their annual football game, rough and tumble style. Rough and tumble it was, too, as the determined Padres nipped the Breakers 20-13. The lightweight teams battled to a tie, and Carmel's Junior Varsity squad rode the Breakers for a 15-0 wipe-out.

On the opening kickoff of the Varsity game, Bill Stowers recovered a Breaker fumble. On the third play of the game, Charlie Eyster zipped by the P.G. defense on a nine-yard run to paydirt. The golden toe of Ralph Juarez kicked the P. A. T. and Carmel led 7-0.

Late in the same quarter, P.G. recovered a Padre fumble on the 21 yard line of Carmel. A Bill Creecy pass to Tom Winter was good for the score. Creecy's attempt at the extra point was good also, and the score was tied 7-7.

Neither team scored again until the third quarter, when Rod

Sibley intercepted a Creecy aerial and set up a 25-yard pass play from Jay Lang to Juarez. Rugged Ralph's kick was again good for the extra point, and Carmel led, 14-7. In the same quarter, Dan Huffard of P.G. pushed through the Carmel line from the 4-yard line to score. The P.A.T. failed and Carmel still led, 14-13. Juarez, who up to this point had 15 T.D.'s, wanted to make it 16, so Lang gave the ball to Ralph on the 3 yard line and the latter bowled his way over the goal line. The final tally was Carmel 20, Pacific Grove 13.

I believe the reason that Ralph wanted that other T.D. was that the game was being reigned over by the Homecoming Queen, Jan Ramoni, and her two attendants, Bev Blout and Kate Dalton, and he wanted to impress them. I'll bet he did, too!

Monterey Peninsula College lost a heartbreaker to Menlo college by a score of 14-12.

First quarter action saw Tom

Broadhead of Menlo scampering 22 yards to paydirt. The P.A.T. was good. In the same quarter, Lyle James passed to John Crivello for 6 points. The conversion failed.

In the fourth quarter, Charlie Whitcomb pushed over from the 4 yard line after a 22 yard run by Lyle James. The extra point was no good. In the few remaining seconds of the game, Monterey appeared to have the game sewed up, but that proved to be their undoing. Menlo quarterback Welsh passed to end Simmons for 6 points and the game was all over. The final score was 14 to 12, Menlo.

Ed Leslie Wins!

Valleyite Ed Leslie won the "Road Race of Champions" Sunday at Riverside Raceway. Leslie, in a Ford Cobra, took the A and B production model race on the 2.6 mile, 9-turn track, with a speed of 93.6 miles per hour.

Western drivers won 11 of 17 first places in the two-day event.

Carmel Football Squads Feted

Culminating a highly successful season by the Carmel Padres, two banquets will honor the boys this week at the La Playa Hotel.

The "Padre Boosters," (Carmel High Parents Club) are sponsors of the dinners in honor of the JV and Varsity Squads.

The JV Banquet, which took place Tuesday, November 17, under the direction of Lloyd Cunningham, Tor Spindler, Wes Ball and Roy Meadows, featured Tom Argust as master of ceremonies with Chris Pappas, assistant coach at MPC, as guest speaker.

The Varsity Banquet, set for Thursday, November 19, will be spearheaded by Jim Lang, Charley Eyster and Wally Marvin and will present Luke Phillips, Head Coach at MPC as guest speaker.

As an innovation this year, the "Padre Boosters" have extended an invitation to mothers as well as fathers of the team members, in recognition of the unsung heroines of the football season.

Carmel Valley GEM & MINERAL SOCIETY

BY GALE HOLLOWAY

OUR NOVEMBER MEETING WAS GREAT

"Diamonds, Are They a Girl's Best Friend?" was the topic of a demonstrated talk by Walter Wood of Pacific Grove, a new member of our society. Walter has the ability to hold his audience in rapt attention. With a friendly chuckle he says, "When the crowd begins to look sleepy, I start asking questions."

One question he asked his listeners (who weren't sleepy at all!) was, "How many of you own a perfect blue-white diamond?" That is a loaded question, because there isn't such a thing. Legally, a diamond may be termed flawless if no imperfections show up at a 10-power enlargement, but a diamond is never perfect.

"Are diamonds worth the money you pay for them?" Walter Wood says, "Usually, yes." The wide range in price is due to the four C's -- Color, Clarity, Cut and Carat. All are important factors in fixing the price of the diamond.

Who is Walter Wood that he should know so much about diamonds? He is one of three diamond cutters in the state of California, a native son who learned his trade as a boy in Los Angeles. He is also a member of the Gemological Society of America and Canada. He is a delightful addition to our club membership.

ANNUAL MEETING NEXT MONTH

Election of club officers will be the most important business at the annual December dinner meeting, Saturday, December 12 at 7:00 p.m. in the Carmel Junior High School cafeteria. The club will furnish ham and rolls and butter; members will bring casseroles, salads, and desserts. There will be more than 30 invited guests of the club -- people who participated in our Jubilee of Jewels.

The nominating committee presented its report as follows: President, no recommendation; vice president, Cal Keater; treasurer, no recommendation; recording secretary, Ruth Paintin; corresponding secretary, Ellen Little; director, Paul Anthony. Nominations will be received from the floor.

Be sure not to miss this one -- It has all the elements for an exciting meeting.
